Letter to the Editor

DEAR EDITOR,

I was so disappointed to read in the Mount St. Mary's College Magazine, Winter 1996, that not only had Eleanor Smeal of the Feminist Majority been invited to speak on campus but was "greeted with rousing cheers."

How sad to learn someone could not be found to address Proposition 209 other than a person totally identified with the pro-abortion movement. What a destructive message a purely partisan advocate for killing babies must send to the students and disappointing for those of us who value life to learn she was actually invited to speak at our Alma Mater.

Sincerely,
Patricia Johnson '50

FALL 1997

Commencement

Prejean Appeals to Graduates to Seek Passion in their Lives

"My prayer for you is that you will be filled with passion as you move into the next stage of your life," said Sister Helen Prejean, C.S.J, to the 309 Mount St. Mary's College graduates present at the 68th annual Commencement ceremony on the Chalon Campus May 10.

Prejean wrote the New York Times bestseller "Dead Man Walking: An Eyewitness Account of the Death Penalty in the United States," adapted for the screen in 1996. As the Commencement speaker, she discussed how her work with the poor in New Orleans led to work as a spiritual adviser to death row convicts. She knew nothing about death row, but when a friend at a prison coalition office asked her to write to a prisoner, she said she would, having no idea where it would lead. "God gives us a penlight, not a big ol' searchlight. I didn't know what waited for me at the end of the road," she said in her New Orleans accent.

After getting to know prisoners, victims, families, the guards and the strap-down teams who carry out executions, Prejean said she was filled with the passion to fight the death penalty. "We can be safe without imitating the violence of the state executing people," she said.

"Here we sit on this sunny day right on the cusp of new life as you graduate, all the challenges of our society wait for us," she said. "The gospel of Jesus flares in our hearts. The great gift of education is that the gifts that you have as a person have been honed and sharpened so that you can participate in the social transformation of this society."

Above: Sr. Helen Prejean, author of "Dead Man Walking," reminds students about the importance of using their talents to transform society.

Prejean was awarded the College's highest honor, the Carondelet Medal, which has been awarded to only four others since 1963.

J. Robert Vaughan, a Los Angeles attorney, business consultant, trustee emeritus of the college and a member of the board of directors of the Fritz B. Burns Foundation, received an honorary degree.

The student speaker was Bernadette Lee, 21, an English/business administration major from Los Angeles. She was selected by faculty and her peers in an essay competition.

A total of 645 students were qualified to graduate. Of those, 189 were associate degree recipients, 358 were bachelor's degree recipients and 98 were master's degree recipients.

1997

Prejean Speaks at Anti-Death Penalty Conference

Sister Helen Prejean, CSJ, will be the keynote speaker at the first united effort by religious and lay leaders of all faiths to end the death penalty.

The gathering, "Envisioning a World Without Violence: Organizing the Religious Community to Abolish the Death Penalty," will take place Nov. 14 to 16 in Washington, D.C.

Conference workshops will include discussions about how to support families of death row prisoners, how to talk to others about religion and the death penalty, and activism for a faith-based perspective.

For details, call Pat Clark, American Friends Service Committee, (215) 241-7130.

Message from THE PRESIDENT

Laying groundwork.

We do it as a college every day as we educate and nurture future leaders, but we did it throughout 1996-97 in a multitude of other ways, as well.

Planning

The Mount St. Mary's College Strategic Plan for 1996-2001 set the agenda for accomplishments small and large for the next five years. The nine goals include becoming one of the country's leading women's colleges and taking advantage of technology to improve teaching, learning and administrative services.

Fundraising

This year marked the College's most successful ever in terms of fundraising. The Campaign for Mount St. Mary's College surpassed the year's goal by 129 percent. As we near the half-way point of the Campaign, the College has raised almost $29 million toward its goal of $40 million. The funds will be used for facilities, student financial aid, academic/student support and annual support. The Campaign will conclude in December 1999.

Much of the continuing success of the Campaign this year must be attributed to the generosity of foundations and corporations that support the College such as The Ahmanson Foundation, Philip Morris, Johnson & Johnson, and the Tom and Valley Knudsen Foundation.

Trustees, regents and Mount Associates were a critical part of our success through their individual gifts to the College and through their support of our elegant and festive Casino Royale IV in June which raised $30,000.

We certainly couldn't have surpassed the goal without the generosity of the alumnae whose giving totals reached an all-time high this year at $588,654.

Recruiting

The 1996-97 recruitment efforts resulted in a group of students who represent a truly diverse class this fall. The academic quality has risen, ethnic diversity remains strong, and the number of students enrolling from outside of California has increased. The College ranked in the top 12 of regional universities in the West in last year's U.S. News & World Report "America's Best Colleges" issue.

Computing

Computer network lines were laid to connect both campuses including all offices and dorm rooms allowing access to the College network and e-mail. Faculty continued to integrate technology into the teaching process, and the College's web page was introduced last fall.

Building

We broke ground on the Sister Magdalen Coughlin Learning Complex on the Doheny Campus in the fall of 1996 and construction is continuing at a fast pace today. The buildings will encompass a Library, Learning Resource Center and Academic Building and should be open for occupation in early 1998. Dedication ceremoniesare tentatively set for late April.

Thus, we have laid the groundwork for what we hope will be many successful years to come.

Sincerely,

Sister Karen

Alum Receives Rockefeller Fellowship

Marisela Murillo '97 was one of only 25 college students nationally to receive Rockefeller Brothers Fund Fellowships for minority students entering the teaching profession. She will receive up to $18,100 in tuition support for graduate school and national recognition as an outstanding potential teacher.

Fellowships are awarded annually to outstanding minority undergraduates in the arts and sciences who wish to pursue a graduate degree in order to teach in American public elementary or secondary schools. Applicants must be enrolled in an institution selected to participate in the Fellowship program and nominated by the institution's screening committee. Rigorous and competitive, the selection process is based on communication skills, academic performance, commitment to public service, letters of recommendation and an interview.

Founded in 1940, the Rockefeller Brothers Fund initiated its education program to strengthen the numbers and quality of teachers in American public education through support of the identification, training, induction and continuing development of individuals of the highest quality in the teaching profession.

RAISING THE ROOF

The Sister Magdalen Coughlin Learning Complex on the Doheny Campus is moving closer each day to its early 1998 opening.

The roof framing has been completed on all buildings, roofing materials are beginning to be installed, the interior framing has begun and the construction workers have roughed in the mechanical ductwork and electrical and sprinkler installations.

The buildings will house a Library, located next door to the Doheny Mansion, and directly across Chester Place there will be a Learning Resource Center and Academic Building.

The Library portion of the Sister Magdalen Coughlin Learning Complex as seen in August.

GRANTS BOLSTER PROGRAMS TO HELP HIGH SCHOOLERS SEEK COLLEGE EDUCATION

Two programs that Mount St. Mary's College created to encourage high school students to consider college as part of their future have received grants recently.

The Strides Toward Educational Proficiency program received funding from the McDonnell Douglas Foundation which matched a $15,850 grant from the McDonnell Douglas Employees' Community Fund to create a total combined grant of $31,700.

Formally introduced in 1985, STEP draws high school juniors recommended by their school counselors to the Doheny Campus for an intensive three-week workshop each August. In addition to concentrated instruction designed to improve their reading, writing, mathematics, and study skills, the summer workshop includes career planning and financial aid counseling.

Additionally, the Whitecap Foundation and State Farm Insurance have awarded grants to continue the Student Ambassadors and Busing programs. Whitecap donated $46,800 to mark its sixth consecutive year of funding the program and State Farm donated $25,000 to keep the program operating.

Through the Student Ambassador Program, trained MSMC students are sent to inner-city schools to assist in the counseling offices, where budget and staffing cuts have hit especially hard.

For information on either program, contact Bernadette Robert, program director, (213) 477-2570.

Mount News

Former MSMC President Makes History (Again!)

In 1967, Sister Cecilia Louise Moore, CSJ, made history when she was named, at age 39, president of Mount St. Mary's College – the youngest in its history. Thirty years later, Moore will leave her mark once again by becoming the first woman and first religious to be named chancellor for the Archdiocese of Los Angeles.

On May 1, Moore took on the role of chancellor which is, as canon law defines, to ensure "that the acts of the curia are drawn up and dispatched, and that they are kept safe in the archive of the curia." She will continue as secretariat director of Educational and Formational Services, a post she has held since 1986.

Speaking of her new post to the Tidings, Moore said, "This position has helped me grow in appreciation of church service, outreach and compassion with a genuine striving to be instrumental in the good news of Christ's presence."

A native of Phoenix and an alumna of St. Mary's Academy, Inglewood, and Mount St. Mary's College, Moore has been associated with the educational institutions of the archdiocese for most of her life. She earned her bachelor of science degree in chemistry and joined the College's chemistry faculty in 1957. She also served as Physical Sciences Department chair, faculty dean, and chair of the Board of Trustees. In 1992, the College named her the 1992 Outstanding Alumna Award for Professional Achievement.

CAMPAIGN UPDATE

NORTON FAMILY FOUNDATION AWARDS $15,000 TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Peter Norton Family Foundation has donated $15,000 to fund scholarships for several students in the Early Childhood Education Program at Mount St. Mary's College.

This associate degree program is designed for students who wish to enter the field of preschool teaching immediately after graduation. Students learn about specialized early childhood education such as child development, infant and toddler development and care, children's literature, and language and concept development of the young child. In addition, they engage in observation activities in model child development centers, including the one on the Doheny Campus. Following instruction in curriculum development, students conduct supervised field work in a child development facility.

Heritage SOCIETY

The Heritage Society is an organization of alumnae and other friends who have remembered Mount St. Mary's College in their will, trust, annuity, insurance policy, retirement plan or through an endowed scholarship fund. Society members receive a plaque and are kept up to date with planned giving news through a newsletter, the College magazine, seminars and special events.

Mount News

U.S. News Ranks MSMC High in Overall Quality, Diversity and Value

Mount St. Mary's has been ranked one of the top nine schools in the western region by U.S. News & World Report in its annual America's Best Colleges issue and guidebook published in August. In the western region, the College has also been ranked as the second most diverse university and the 15th best value.

In the top regional school category, the College rose from 12th last year to ninth.

"We are very pleased to have moved up in the rankings," said President Karen M. Kennelly. "Our strengths as a student-centered, liberal arts institution with a strong focus on women's leadership have obviously attributed to this improvement, as has the generosity of our alumnae body." The ranking is based on academic reputation, retention, faculty resources, student selectivity, financial resources and alumni giving.

The new U.S. News category on campus diversity in which the College is ranked second, reflects the College's reputation as the most diverse of any independent college in Southern California. Mount St. Mary's is nationally recognized for its innovative programs and strategies for educating a culturally diverse studentbody. With 71 percent of its student body being ethnic minority, the College boasts a graduation rate of 64 percent as compared with the national rate of 45 percent.

The best value ranking relates the cost of attending an institution to its quality. These rankings appeared in a special section on financing college in the Sept. 8 issue of U.S. News.

Dolorosa Awardees Epitomize Mount Mission

What connection does a graduating senior today have with the College's first academic dean? The Sister Dolorosa Mannix Award.

Named in honor of a woman who was a key component in the Mount's development for 33 years, the Award was created in 1963 by the Alumnae Association with the goal that it would be awarded to the graduating senior who best exemplified the intellectual, moral, religious and social virtues that the Mount endeavors to develop in its students. The award was granted this year to Bernadette Lee, a young woman who has had more accomplishments in her years at the Mount than many people have in a lifetime.

Among her numerous accomplishments, Lee was the founder of the literary magazine Mount Voices and co-founder of the Amnesty International Human Rights chapter on campus. She was an intern with Los Angeles County Supervisor Yvonne Brathwaite Burke and the Asian Pacific American Legal Center, coordinator of the social and political action events for Campus Ministry, recipient of numerous awards, and she was placed on the Dean's List for three years and named Outstanding Student of the Year in 1994-95.

A few of the previous recipients have shown in their personal and professional lives, that they were just beginning their journeys of accomplishment when they were given the Dolorosa Award by the Alumnae Association after selection by their peers and a committee of faculty members.

Lisa K. Gigliotti '84

"The Mount helped foster a solid spiritual foundation that carried me through years of using a wheelchair, then suffering from a second debilitating neuromuscular disease - to now being a successful lawyer," says Lisa K. Gigliotti.

Gigliotti has since used the skills she learned at MSMC to help others: she previously worked as a staff attorney for the Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service, and recently accepted a position as a policy advisor to the Michigan State Senate on health, Medicare and assisted suicide issues. She adds, "The leadership skills I learned at the Mount helped me excel in my career and uphold my principles proudly."

Kathryn Brown Schaffer '89

Currently a staff research associate/epidemiologist for the Southern California Injury Prevention Research Center at UCLA, Kathryn Brown Schaffer credits the community feeling on campus, leadership program, small class size and support of the teachers and staff with helping her develop as a person.

Says Schaffer, "I feel very comfortable being a woman in society today. A lot of that confidence and strength comes from the strong foundation [of values] that developed and grew stronger while I was a student at MSMC."

Dr. Mary C. Breden, BA '72, BMu '73, directs the Loyola Marymount University Concert Choir at Carnegie Hall in New York in June. Breden is director of choral activities and choir of music at LMU. She was recently selected for tenure and promoted to full professor. (photo by Chris Lee)

Claudia Ruiz '87 and Bernadette Lee '97 compare Dolorosa Award medals at Commencement 1997.

Claudia Ruiz '87

For Claudia Ruiz, getting involved and making a difference is the way she gives back what the Mount has given her. In 1995, she wrote and received a $13,000 grant from the Orange County Office of Education to develop an early intervention program for grades K-2. In 1996, she was one of 30 Los Angeles Unified School District teachers chosen to become a member of the Early Literacy Cadre. And, she has served in various positions on the MSMC Alumnae Board - including two years as president - since graduating in 1987.

"The knowledge and leadership skills I gained at the Mount have helped me have a very successful career in education," says Ruiz. "Continuing to be involved with the Alumnae Association is one way for me to say 'thank you.'"

Jennifer Marano Marshall '91

"I feel I am more confident as a teacher because I attended Mount St. Mary's College. I model fairness and tolerance, and teach my students that girls and boys should have the same opportunities," says Jennifer Marano Marshall, a first grade teacher at St. Robert Bellarmine School in Burbank. "Hopefully, these values will help my students become respectful and responsible citizens who treat men and women equally."

Theresa Yugar '92

Recently awarded her master's of divinity degree from Harvard Divinity School, Theresa Yugar's experience at the Mount guided her toward championing the spiritual power of women. As a Fulbright Scholar in Costa Rica, she focused on the plight of women who were socially marginalized based on race, sex and class. While at Harvard, she founded the Young Feminist/Mutual Mentoring Network and worked toward the plight of children and low-income women.

"My years at the Mount were very formative for me. It was from this space of educated, supportive and inspiring women that I have been able to draw strength and move on in my own ministry," says Yugar. "My life, and present career choice as a feminist theologian, would have looked much differently had I not had the time and space to reflect on my personal gifts."

Indeed, Sister Dolorosa's spirit lives on in these alums honored in her name - beyond the education they received at the Mount and into the greater role they play in society.

Looking Toward the Future

Mount Associates want more dinner parties and fewer phone calls according to an August survey of all 136 members. The Associates advisory committee will use the responses to plan future activities and members will receive detailed results. In general, the survey revealed the following:

Special Events – Members are satisfied with the number of Mount Associates events offered each year. When asked what kinds of events they prefer to attend, a majority indicated that a fabulous dining experience tops their list. A Great Chefs Dinner at the Doheny Mansion was the preferred choice with either a dinner cruise or museum tour/dinner ranking second.

Contact with the College – Mount Associates feel they are kept well informed about developments on campus. They appreciate contact with the College through events and publications, but have mixed views on receiving a personal call or visit from staff or volunteers.

Membership Donations – Although Associates enjoy the special events that accompany membership, they do not feel that the annual membership donation should increase to accommodate additional social activities.

General Impressions – Most importantly, the survey revealed that members are satisfied with the Mount Associates program and intend to renew their membership for 1998.

We are also interested in feedback from prospective Mount Associates. If you have questions, call Theresa Davis at (310) 954-4097.

Is a Gift Annuity Right for You?

(Try this simple little test to find out.)

HERITAGE SOCIETY

True or False

1.____I would like to make a gift to Mount St. Mary's College that would not only help MSMC, but provide me with income for the rest of my life.

2.____I would like to receive regular, fixed payments that I can count on.

3.____I would like to receive payments that would be as much or more than I might receive from other financial arrangements.

4.____I would like a portion of each payment I receive to be tax free.

5.____I would like to receive a charitable income tax deduction for my gift.

6.____I would like to reduce the size of my estate taxes to lessen (or avoid) estate taxes.

7.____I would like to know more about charitable gift annuities.

If you answered "yes" to most or all of these questions, a gift annuity from MSMC may fit your needs perfectly.

The following table indicates income benefits for an individual who gives $10,000 cash

SINGLE LIFE CURRENT ANNUITY

Age	Payout	Annual
65	7.2%	$ 720
70	7.7%	$ 770
75	8.4%	$ 840
80	9.4%	$ 940
85	10.5%	$1050
90	12.0%	$1200

Two-lives, current-annuity rates are slightly lower.

Deferred gift annuity rates are somewhat higher and may be obtained at younger ages.

We are happy to welcome the following friends into our Heritage Society: Helen Clare Doherty, Florence Multer '44, and Gladys Trask '47 who have named MSMC in living trusts; and Karen S. Newman who has included the College in her will.
